CAMPUS ENVIRONMENT

CAMPUS ENVIRONMENT

It's All About...

Student Life

Dear Sir:

I fear I have most unintentionally alarmed you unnecessarily, in reference to Fannie. I did learn this summer, to my surprise, that Fannie had exchanged notes with some of the boys during the session. The boys were from good families and well-behaved, and I do not imagine that there was anything improper in the notes, save that they tended to divert her mind from her studies, and the correspondence was in direct violation of my rules. The information came to me in a way that prevented me from mentioning names. Except to let Fannie know that I had become aware the notes had passed, so as to guard her from a repetition of the act in the future. I do not see that further investigation is necessary.

How far it is best to restrict girls and boys from all intercourse is a problem hard to solve, as you yourself have doubtless found. Some parents insist on the necessity of occasional association to prevent prudery, stiffness, and to great desire for a debarred pleasure. To meet this requirement, I very occasionally admitted to my soirees such young men and boys as would have been received in my parlor. In the presence of myself and teachers they were allowed one half hour's conversation - no more. Of course, on commencement nights the time was prolonged to one hour, but still under strict regulations.

If Fannie would only consent to give up all thought of boys until her education is completed, and apply herself to her studies, she would make one of the loveliest, most attractive women I know. Nature has done so much for her. I except to be stringent than ever with reference to notes and letters, but if young people are bent on correspondence, there is no limit to their ingenuity.

Yours respectfully,

Mary J. Baldwin, Principal

from The History of Mary Baldwin College, 1842-1942, Mary Walters (1942)

APPLE DAY

Apple Day Song 1992

Sung to Margaritaville by Jimmy Buffet

Livin' off bagels
Sleepin' through classes,
Going to parties
At other schools,
The list is real long
Of places we go to
Now it's our turn
To have fun on our lawn.

Wasted Away again at Baldwin

Searching for a man to steal my heart

Some people claim that there's a roommate to blame

But I know ... it's nobody's fault

Don't know the reason

New set ups not pleasin'

Nothing is sure--but the fun's up to you

But it's a new concept

Carnival, bands and

Apple games, too; the fun's up to you.

Refrain

I downed six Jim Beam shots

And everyone drank lots

The party ran dry and

Had to stumble back home

But there's booze in the blender

And soon it will render

That frozen concoction that helps me hang on

Refrain

Come enjoy our Apple Day!!!!

2nd Annual SIGNATURE BALL

WITH DR. BLUE, BOY O BOY, JOHNNY MCCLENNON
BAND, AND BALDWIN CHARM

Signature Ball 1993

written by Elizabeth Smith, Social Committee chairman

What do black velvet dresses and penguin suits have in common? A formal, that's what! A new annual tradition called the "Signature Ball."

Held the last weekend in January, this weekend-long event was first introduced last year by the Social Committee co-chairs, Elizabeth Smith and Amy Burroughs. The idea was to create a formal weekend that resembles the classic traditional values of Mary Baldwin.

This three-day event would include a HUGE all-college theme party on Friday night, a formal ball on Saturday night, and a festive brunch on Sunday. This year, the Signature Ball Weekend carried the theme of "Mardi Gras Masquerade." The band Boy O' Boy played to a festive beaded crowd on Friday night. On Saturday, over 250 masked couples waltzed and jazzed to the rhythm of the Johnny McClennon Big Band. Baldwin Charm ended the weekend with their a capella music at the Sunday brunch.

It is the hope of the Social Committee that the ongoing success of the Signature Ball Weekend will continue in the years to come as a tradition unlike any other. It will never be just another "formal."

A message from President Tyson

Mary Baldwin College has just enjoyed a very special anniversary. We have looked back 150 years and looked forward to our future. Putting on an appropriate celebration was a formidable task. Every member of our staff, many members of our faculty, and some of our students and alumnae, were involved in planning over several years, and then were responsible for executing every event in a series of final days from Tuesday, October 6, to Sunday, October 11, 1992.

Our goal was to showcase Mary Baldwin College's progress and achievements. We attempted to leave out no aspect of our evolution and growth since 1842 and of our successes in all aspects of academic, cultural, and social life in a college which is at one and the same time a vibrant intellectual center, a beautiful physical setting, and a successful business. This was an ambitious undertaking, but fitting for the occasion.

Musical achievement had, of course, been celebrated in The Book of Ruth, an opening sesquicentennial work by Frances Thompson McKay '69, especially commissioned and performed as our year-long sequence of events began. Our finale presented all the arts: theatre, with Gilbert and Sullivan's The Gondoliers, an alumnae art show, and a Liszt recital by music faculty member Dr. J. Riley Haws.

Lectures emphasized scholarship. The Founders' Day address was presented by alumna Dr. Gwen Kennedy Neville, the holder of the Elizabeth Root Paden Chair in Sociology at Southwestern University in Georgetown, Texas; faculty members Dr. Kenneth W. Keller, professor of history, and Dr. Carrie B. Douglass, assistant professor of sociology, presented papers on "Gender and the Equal Protection of the Laws Clause" and "Whatever Happened to the Indians of Virginia?" respectively.

The history of the College by Professor Emerita of History Dr. Patricia H. Menk was a particularly significant achievement. Through her scholarly and thorough examination of our 150 years, she placed our present time in context. She reminded us that we do, indeed, "live in time" as her book's title announces.

She caused us all to rejoice in the achievements of those who went before, to recognize the many obstacles that have been overcome, and to identify our heritage of resilience and determined will to succeed, and to feel humbly respectful toward the responsibilities with which we are now charged.

And we celebrated socially, proud of the variety of experiences we enjoy together. From a bird walk with Professor Emeritus John F. Mehner to the cheers for our students on the hockey field and volleyball court to the most elaborate of festive dinners, we rejoiced in our friendships, past and present, and in shared experiences of loved pastimes.

And we shared with the City of Staunton, proud that we are in a city that embraces us and with whom we feel common purpose in shaping progress. We gathered at the Staunton Fine Arts Center; we toured the Museum of American Frontier Culture; we admired our Woodrow Wilson Birthplace.

We dressed up, and we dressed down. From black tie to blue jeans, we rejoiced in our culinary heritage of corn pudding, barbecue, apple dumplings, Virginia ham, and elegant delectables that showed off the skills of our Mary Baldwin kitchens. We baked bread, and we made ice sculptures, and we rejoiced in the festive harmony of the board.

We danced while music played, and sometimes we just sat to listen. The sun shone and the leaves turned gold; the stars came out, and still we rejoiced in party times.

We remembered that many of us came to Mary Baldwin not by private car or scheduled flights, but by train, long journeys by train. So we went down to the railroad station, which is beautifully restored. Lovely memories are preserved inside that railroad station.

No one has ever lacked ambition at Mary Baldwin, nor the generosity of soul to reach the ambitious goal. Through the generosity of Trustee William G. Pannill, we built a building for our students, and through the generosity and careful design of Trustee Chairman Charles S. Luck III and his family, we built and dedicated a terrace of bluestone, flower beds, and shade trees to complement our student complex and to enhance our campus.

Our expert grounds staff demonstrated their skills, too, in every corner of the campus. And our custodial and housekeeping staff made us all proud. Lawns were neat and hedges trimmed. Floors shone and white paint gleamed. Linen was starched and just right. They showed how a good business should be run.

Through all these events in the arts and scholarship, our physical environment, our business and organizational skills, a schedule of grueling pace and a reliving of history, there emerged, however, the single, obvious, but fundamental reason for Mary Baldwin's celebration: her people, then and now.

Vision, inspiration, hard work, support, loyalty, friendship, collegiality, creativity, vitality; these are Mary Baldwin's character and personality, her people, over time and now. Thank you, every one, and happy anniversary, Mary Baldwin College!

College is a time of learning.
We are always growing and maturing.
It's a time to laugh and a time to cry.
Especially when we must say good bye.
Friends are made and loves are lost,
But that's part of what it is all about.
Moving on in our own directions,
Looking back, but making no corrections.
The times were great,
The times were fun.
And now it's time to carry on.
Memories will keep the feeling alive,
But now it's time to say good bye.
Good bye to all who gave a damn,
And so long to Ham and Jam!

There were so many things I had to say and I am sure that most were left on said it's strange how quickly time can slip away when we're together. Yet when it has fled into that timeless land where memory lives,
I knew that much of what I wished to tell was yours, without speaking. Silence gives the warmest welcome and the best farewell

So when we meet again, as we shall meet,
I feel no resentment if my mouth be dumb or even such as I shall feel might numb a tongue more glad than this and if no sweet glad words declare the glory that is mine, nor bitter words describe the time betweenlook in my eyes, and read them, line on line.

Things I've learned

You shouldn't compare yourself to the best others can do but to the best you can do.
Good advice is hard to give but harder to follow.
Education, experience, and memories are three things no one can take away from you.
Simple things are often the most satisfying.
When you judge others, you are revealing your own fears and prejudices.
A fulfilled life is not possible without friends.
The purpose of criticism is to help, not to humiliate.
Live and Learn and Easy It On.

Executive Committee

Dear Student Body,

It has certainly been a pleasure serving you this year. As your Student Government Association President, I along with the Executive Committee have invested time and energy to attain the goals we set out to achieve. This year has been quite successful in several ways.

First off we brought you the Hypnotist, Tom Deluca. He was hilarious and we hope you enjoyed him. Second, we worked long and hard on your survival book, "Life on the Hill and Other Places." We hope it provides you with some useful information. Third, we started the year off with one secretary and ended with another, but it was a smooth transition. Fourth, we planned and worked very hard to bring you the Dave Matthews T.V. Party. The party was a huge success, a sell-out! With the help of Commuter Students and the Baldwin Program Board we were able to raise enough money to purchase the big screen t.v. that is now available for your viewing pleasure in the Ham 'n Jam Pub. The t.v. party was just a kick-off fund raiser, but it was so successful that we attained our goal immediately. Our last goal was to revamp elections procedures. We are hoping that by the 1993-94 academic year elections will follow a new, up-to-date procedure.

This year has certainly been full of excitement, fun, tears, and toil, but it has been worth every minute. I'll be sad to go, but I want to leave you with this message..... Always remember that you are Mary Baldwin women and when a MBC girl puts her heart and mind to it she can accomplish anything! Good luck and take care!

Respectfully yours,

Patricia S.G. Hylton
 S.G.A. President

Senate

Mary Baldwin's Student Senate has been very active this year making changes in food, grounds, the constitution, and in the Staunton community. Through a contest the Pub was named after Ham and Jam, and Pub meal tickets were invented. Stop signs, a phone in Academic, and other campus grounds-related things improved. The Senate as a group helped Staunton's Red Cross by collecting items for two disaster relief trunks to help area disaster victims. In addition, the Senate sold MBC baseball caps.

We couldn't have done it without you, the members of the Mary Baldwin College community. Remember, you are what makes the school; whatever happens here happens because of you--the individuals. So be sure that if there are changes that need to be made, you make them. Maintain the standards that this community cherishes as you move on in the world into other realms, and don't forget the integrity and pride in achievement that you learned here. Continue to achieve.

Student Alumnae Partnership

Student Alumnae Partnership works to promote the Alumnae Association to the student body. By giving freshmen gifts, sponsoring events on campus, and working with the Annual Fund Office, the organization helps to make the student body more aware of the Alumnae Association. The committee has sponsored pizza exam breaks, written thank-you notes to gift donors of the college, and sponsored a Senior Dinner with the help of the Alumnae Board. Members also meet with the Alumnae Board during leadership weekends.

Fine Arts Association

The Student Fine Arts Association promotes the Fine Arts to the Mary Baldwin student body and the community. The FAA invites all those interested in the Fine Arts to participate in art related projects. Activities are planned such as art receptions at Gallery openings, public speakers, trips to Washington D.C., and fundraisers to expose the campus to the arts. The FAA has been successful in establishing a better appreciation for the Fine Arts.

Freshman Orientation Committee

The Orientation staff this year was made up of Marsha Mays, Amy Galvin, Dana Ailsworth, and the leaders. They were: Kim Woods, Tricia Clardy-Wilson, Wendy Jamerson, Christy Hawkins, Jennifer Bruce, Michelle Peters, Karen Schwertfeger, Allie Witt, Lynne Peto, Staci Buford, Renee Roberts, Jolyn Crim, Jennifer Burress, Christy Andrews, Karin Lovelace, Kathy Mauermann, Anne Scott, Veronica Vicente, and Lesley Topping. This group is a key factor in helping new students settle into MBC! The theme for this year was "United Colors of Baldwin."

COSMOS International Club is for international students and anyone interested in learning more about other countries and cultures. We are a social group that promotes awareness and acceptance of cultural diversity. Through social interactions, we hope our members will learn to respect other cultures and forge friendships that will last a lifetime. Through our campus activities, we hope the Mary Baldwin community will learn to appreciate other cultures. We connect because of our similarities and we learn because of our differences. PEACE.

Phi Beta Lambda

President Sabrina Rakes

PBL is open to all business, computer science, and communications majors. This newly reformed group helped outline a year-by-year schedule for freshmen who are interested in one of these majors. They also put on a fashion show for graduating seniors to display the local collection of career clothing. To raise money PBL brought back their traditional auction.

Social Committee

What is Social Committee?

According to Webster's Dictionary, the word Social /so-sh l/ is defined as: -marked by, devoted to or engaged in for sociability. Yet according to Baldwin gals, social means Big bands, little bands and BOYS from all around.

Committee /k -'mit-ē/ is defined as: a body of persons appointed or elected to consider or take action on some matter. I.E. - a hardworking crazy bunch of gals who come together several times throughout the year to plan THE SOCIAL CALENDAR.

Members- Brooke Adams, Melissa Lambert, Sally Brown, Catherine Leonard, Garnett Clymer, Kim Lockhart, Allie Compton, Lauren Logan, Krista Corbett, Karin Lovelace, Jennifer Burruss, Jennifer Markel, Amy Griffith, Sabrina Rakes, Forrest Rotgin, Stephanie Thacker, Dee Dee Sullivan, and Brandi Jones

Theatre

The 1992-93 theatre productions included a Gilbert and Sullivan musical called The Gondoliers which was a talented display of cultural art directed by Frank Southerington with musical direction by Dr. Robert Allen. The Gondoliers was a lively musical with a large cast and is perhaps one of Gilbert and Sullivan's most humorous works of art. The Opposite Of Stars; a magical and mysterious historical account of two women faced with the hardships of life in the 18th century was directed by Rick Seyford. Joanna Vickery portrayed Margaret, a young English woman who gains insight into the unfamiliar world of the Native Americans of the 18th century and forms a new found friendship with "Light of Many Stars," a young Native American girl played by Ginny Pitman. A Shakespearean romance called The Winter's Tale was directed by Terry Southerington. The Importance of Being Earnest is a comedy of manners directed by Rick Seyford. Two student plays were performed. Personality was directed by Shawn McCarty, Amy Rupe, and Diara Sullivan. The remarkable Eleemosynary was directed by guest director Amy Cuomo.

Miss America - Leanza Cornett

On September 19, 1992, 21-year-old Leanza Cornett of Jacksonville, FL, was named Miss America. She's the 66th Miss America, chosen by a panel of celebrity judges.

Cornett, a singer and actress, is a sophomore studying communications at Rollins College in Winter Park, FL.

She plans to speak about AIDS awareness during her year-long reign. Cornett said her "ultimate goal" is to get a group of drama and theater students together whose performances would "give AIDS kind of a hopeful message." "If we can bring some lightness into it, it would be very motivational and very educational," says Cornett.

Cornett said she would like the federal government to increase funding for AIDS research, but she said society must take the first steps towards finding a cure. "We have to start with ourselves and that is going to be my main point as I go out," she said.

Besides a rhinestone tiara, valued at $1000, Cornett won a $35,000 scholarship and a ruby red 1993 Chevrolet Corvette. She also expects to earn more than $200,000 from speaking engagements. (Associated Press)

1992 Summer Olympics

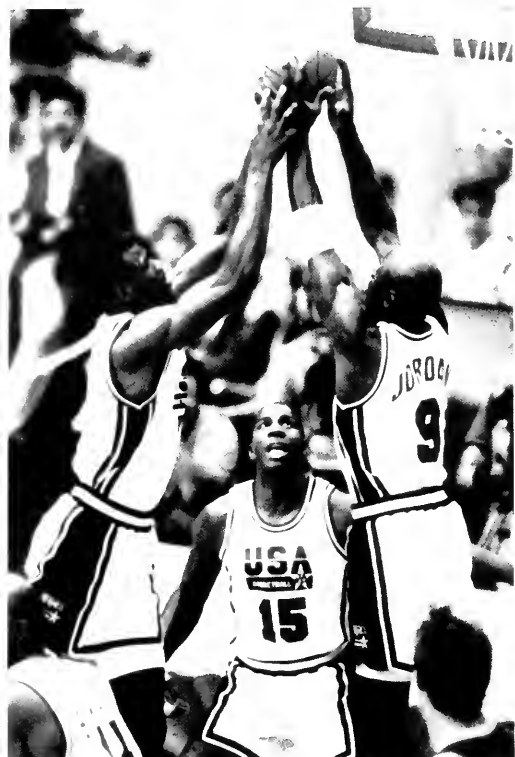

An era of amateurism passed into an age of professionalism, and the Olympics were transformed forever, when professional athletes were allowed to compete in the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona, Spain.

Countering the attacks of commercialism, coach Chuck Daly argued that the presence of pros could do nothing but enhance the event. "There's 183 countries and 3 billion people watching these games," Daly said. "And somewhere out there now is a 13-year-old who wants to be a Michael or a Magic, a Larry or a Patrick. That's the role of these games," he said. "That's what happens in all of these sports. It gives people a dream."

The United States emerged from its two-decade Olympic funk, finishing only four behind in the closest medals race since America won in 1964 in Tokyo. Now it stands poised to rule the sports world in Atlanta in 1996 after arguably its greatest Summer Games.

America's 108 medals surpassed by one the total in 1968 and trailed only the inflated totals of the Soviet-boycotted 1984 Los Angeles Games and the 1904 St. Louis Games, attended by just 12 nations.

Pictured here are the "Dream Team" (top left) during the first half of their semifinal game with Lithuania; U.S. volleyball player Bob Samuels (top right), celebrating victory against Canada; Shannon Miller (bottom right) performing her floor exercises; Gail Devers (bottom left) racing to win in the third heat of the second round 100 meter hurdles. Music Awards

Yanni (top) and the Red Hot Chili Peppers swept the ninth annual MTV Video Music Awards on September 9, 1992 in Los Angeles, C.A.

The Red Hot Chili Peppers won the awards for breakthrough video, viewers' choice and art direction. Lead singer Anthony Kiedis (top left) displays the MTV spaceman trophy backstage.

Model and MTV vee-jay Cindy Crawford (top middle) poses for a photographer outside the pavilion, stopping to greet her fans.

Bill Clinton plays the saxophone

Bill Clinton, sitting in with the band, turned out an impressive version of "Heartbreak Hotel" as Arsenio Hall gestured approvingly in the musical opening of "The Arsenio Hall Show" taping at Paramount studios in June 1992. Hall said of the presidential hopeful's talent on the saxophone, "It's good to see a Democrat blowing something other than the election." (AP)

Democratic National Convention

Brimming with euphoria and confidence, presidential candidate Bill Clinton and his running mate, Senator Al Gore, held arms aloft and stood before a convention hall on July 17, 1992, in New York's Madison Square Garden. (AP)

CONGRATULATIONS CHRISTY!

WE'RE PROUD OF YOU!

LOVE, MOTHER, DAD, MIKE
AND ROCKY

"Remember, Ginger Rogers
did everything Fred Astaire did, but she did it backwards and in high heels."

*Some day, many years from now
We'll sit beside the fire's glow
Exchanging tales about our past
And laughing as the memories flow
And when that distant day arrives
I know it will be understood
That friendship is the key to life.
And we were all friends ,
and it was good.*

--Anonymous

Michelle - it hasn't been the same without you.

Julia, Lacy, Dove - Good Luck next year...I'll miss you!

We were just out to have a good time, but somewhere along the line we became the best of friends.

*I love ya'll,
Whitney*

Kathryn,

We Love
you!

Congratulations, Sweetheart!
Go confidently toward your dreams knowing
you have fulfilled ours!
